

NMRL's Recent Graduate Dr. Gene Siegel to Join AFRL

NMRL's most recent graduate Dr. Gene Siegel will be joining Air Force Research Laboratory as a Senior Materials Engineer. He will be stationed at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, Ohio. Dr. Siegel started his Ph.D. under Dr. Tiwari's supervision in Fall 2011 and graduated in Fall 2015. During his Ph.D., he published 10 research papers in peer reviewed international journals and did several conference presentations. At AFRL, Dr. Siegel will be working in Dr. Michael Snure's group in Sensors Directorate. Dr. Snure is also Prof. Tiwari's former Ph.D. student.
